

Why Steph Now?

The status quo isn't working. The housing crisis and homelessness have gotten worse over the past 8 years. Why should we believe the same people who couldn't solve these problems before can solve them now, especially when we are in the middle of a pandemic.

The job of a councilmember is to represent the residents in their district for the benefit and welfare of the whole of the city. That is not happening in District 1. Too many residents feel their opinions and concerns are ignored. District 1 residents are already reaching out to Steph. As your council member, Steph will listen to you, and she will return your calls within 48 hours!

Steph is personally invested in representing you. She has raised her family here and, as a mother, understands what families need for communities to thrive. She didn't move here to get elected to office and she doesn't consider the city council a steppingstone to Sacramento. Steph loves Oakland and she wants all our residents to be safe, healthy, and prosper.
